Certificate

I, Name, with Roll No: CDS17M001 hereby declare that the material presented in the Project Report titled Thesis Title represents original work carried out by me in the Department of Electronics and Communication Engineering at the Indian Institute of Information Technology, Design and Manufacturing, Kancheepuram during the years 2018–2019. With my signature, I certify that:

- I have not manipulated any of the data or results.
- I have not committed any plagiarism of intellectual property. I have clearly indicated and referenced the contributions of others.
- I have explicitly acknowledged all collaborative research and discussions.
- I have understood that any false claim will result in severe disciplinary action.
- I have understood that the work may be screened for any form of academic misconduct.

The main rule for the use of commas in English is: Keep your sentences clear. Too many commas might be distracting; too few might make the text difficult to read and understand.

Always check your texts on readability. This requires some practice, however, as first you must know which commas are necessary and which are optional.

The following chapters contain explanations on English comma rules. In our exercises you can practise what you've learned.
